

ASPEN PUBLIC RADIO

MORNING NEWSCAST

Tuesday November 17, 2009

A Czech woman residing in Aspen and working as a caregiver for the Pitkin County Assessor, is facing deportation Wednesday.

The woman fled the Czech Republic to get away from an abusive stepfather. Now if she gets sent back, a disabled man in Pitkin County may lose his independence and she faces a potentially worse fate in her home country. Aspen Public Radio's Mitzi Rapkin reports.

http://www.aspenpublicradio.org/news_archive_detail.php?story=527