

CENTER FOR GENDER & REFUGEE STUDIES

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, HASTINGS COLLEGE OF THE LAW

SUMMER 2009 LAW CLERK POSITIONS

The Center for Gender and Refugee Studies (CGRS), one of the nation's leading refugee advocacy organizations, is seeking full-time Judith Stronach Women's Rights Fellows for summer, 2009. The Center, which is based at UC Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco, works to advance women's human rights by focusing on gender-based asylum and broader migration and refugee policies, both in the U.S. and internationally.

The law clerks will be involved in the full range of CGRS's work, including research and writing on key legal issues, appellate advocacy, the development of detailed country conditions information, the preparation of expert witness affidavits, and national policy work.

For more information on CGRS, see: <<http://cgrs.uchastings.edu/>>

Experience or background in immigration or asylum law is required. Experience with related areas, such as international human rights law should be mentioned. Spanish language desirable, but not required. Please indicate eligibility for work study, as well as prospects for securing external funding.

The ten-week position runs from June 1 to August 7, 2008.

Interested applicants should mail or fax a cover letter and resume to:
